ADDRESS

University of Denver, Lamont School of Music, Robert & Judi Newman Center for the Performing Arts, 2344 E. Iliff Ave., Denver CO 80208

About the University of Denver: Founded in 1864—just a few years after the city of Denver itself was founded—the University of Denver is one of the country's premier private universities. The University's 125-acre campus, a few miles south of downtown Denver, is home to more than 11,500 students hailing from all regions of the United States and 83 other countries. The University offers: more than 100 undergraduate programs of study and more than 120 graduate and professional programs. Regardless of what they study, University of Denver students embark on a personal educational journey that helps them find and follow their individual purpose.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY INSTITUTION

It is the policy and practice of the University to provide equal opportunity in employment, educational activities, and other programs to all employees, students, and applicants. No person shall be discriminated against in any condition of employment or opportunity because of race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, genetic information, or veteran status.

LESSONS/COACHING

Each student receives four lessons on their major instrument, voice, or in composition. Those who choose to enroll in secondary study will receive three lessons or classes in the minor field.

Students should bring at least three pieces for study in their major:

1. one thoroughly polished and ready to perform
2. one that can be prepared for performance
3. one that is new.

Students taking a minor instrument should bring 2 pieces to study.

Counselor practice coaches are available to help students develop good practice techniques.

Composition Majors: Please bring digital files of all previous compositions. All composition students will participate in the Composers' Workshop.

Voice, Piano and Guitar Majors will also participate in daily classes that focus on their area of study. Voice majors will perform vignettes or scenes from a musical or operetta in a final recital.

CHAMBER MUSIC

Instrumental chamber groups and vocal ensembles rehearse daily, receive at least four coaching sessions, and have opportunities to perform in recitals at the end of the session. Typically in May, instrumentalists will receive chamber music assignments. The music is assigned early, so that it can be well-learned and studied with private teachers ahead of time.

Each instrumentalist is required to provide their own score and part and is required to prepare the music in advance. Music that is not well-prepared may result in the student being removed from the ensemble by the ensemble coach. (Note: voice chamber, brass chamber, wind ensemble, and orchestra will be assigned music once the session has begun.)

AUDITIONS

Each student will audition on Monday morning, for seating placement in large ensembles. Seating auditions will include a solo of choice, scales and sight reading. Those not in large ensembles (pianists, guitarists, and singers) will also audition for their department faculty with one or two solo pieces. Composition majors will have a class during auditions.

SELECTION FOR HONORS RECITALS AND MASTER CLASSES

Selection of students for master classes and honors recitals is at the recommendation of the private instructor or coach. Auditions will serve as a preliminary hearing for selection. Students who wish to be considered for one of these opportunities must inform their instructor at their first lesson, and demonstrate at that time that the piece they wish to perform is performance ready. Memorization is required for piano, strings, and voice; memorization is highly recommended for woodwinds, brass and percussion.

LARGE ENSEMBLES- All major ensembles are featured on the final concert.

Orchestra—Instrumentalists participate in orchestra every afternoon and may perform works for both full and string orchestra. Seating is determined by audition on the first day of the session.

Wind Ensemble—Woodwinds, brass, and percussion participate in wind ensemble for an hour almost daily. Seating is determined by first day auditions.

RECITALS

Student Chamber & Small Ensemble/Composition Recitals and the Final Concert take place during the final days of the session. Please refer to the Concert Calendar in this Guidebook regarding dates and times. Additional performance opportunities will take place during the session in numerous informal performance classes, as well as master classes and honors recitals. All student performances are subject to faculty approval. Parents/guardians should make hotel reservations early if they will be staying over to attend recitals and concerts.

MUSIC THEORY

A theory placement test is included in your acceptance packet paperwork. This test is not a judgement of your musicianship or ability. It is to place you in the appropriate level of music theory instruction. It is very important that we get an accurate impression of your theory fluency so that we may place you in a class level that will be most helpful to you.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN CAREER MENTORING SESSIONS

We want to support our young musicians as they look to the future, whether that be a career as a performer, educator, a music adjacent career, or even careers outside of music. In these sessions guest artists perform, tell their stories, and then answer questions. Other sessions focus on the college audition process, music business, and careers in music young musicians often don't know exist.

RECREATION

Various recreation and social events are held throughout LSA including a Sunday trip downtown and to the Denver Art Museum. Bring casual clothes for recreational activities.

PRACTICE EXPECTATIONS

Practice requirements vary by instrument, but, in general, students will be expected to practice on their major instrument a minimum of 2 hours daily (including composing for composition majors) and a minimum of ½ hour daily on their minor instrument.
