Performers:

Capen Ades is a senior (eek!) from San Francisco, California, majoring in Marketing with a concentration in Music. She studied abroad in Barcelona during the fall of her junior year, and plans to go back for a gap year post-graduation with one of her best friends. She has admired the carillon tower since her freshman year, took her first trip up there sophomore year to hear Joey play a song of her request, revisited once during junior year for a class, and is thrilled to have finally been able to tickle the wooden keys herself. Additionally, Capen is ordained and can solve a Rubik's cube in less than 1:15 seconds.

Noah Berman is a senior student at DU, majoring in Applied Computing and minoring in Entrepreneurship. During Noah's college career he also has been in flight school and became a commercial multiengine pilot as well as a private helicopter pilot. Noah has lived in Colorado most of his life and loves the mountains. His hobbies include carillon, guitar, piano, snowboarding and whitewater kayaking.

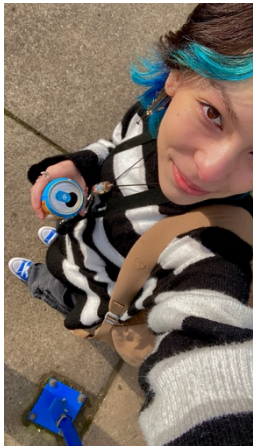

Bryant Denmark is a second-year masters student at DU, majoring in Orchestral Conducting at Lamont. Bryant is originally from Kingsport, TN, but fondly remembers skiing at Crested Butte with his grandparents when he was much younger. Bryant started their musical journey on violin, and tries to learn every instrument possible.

Niall Doherty is a fourth-year student at DU, majoring in Environmental Science, with minors in GIS and Economics. He enjoys spending time outside, looking around, riding his bike, and being with friends. This is apparent in his carillon playing.

Kailey Hulihan is a third-year student at DU. She is majoring in both Criminology and Psychology with a minor in Biology. She is originally from Illinois, but glad to call Colorado home for her schooling. Her passion for music and past piano experience exposed her to interest in carillon. When not practicing and playing the instrument, she enjoys spending time with friends and loved ones, reading, watching movies, and all things art and music.

Z Klawetter is a second-year Political Science and History major with minors in Spanish and Leadership Studies through the PLP! They have lived in Texas, Colorado, and Oregon, but are glad to be back in Denver, where they were born. In addition to playing carillon, they love reading, making art, watching movies, and photography. They also volunteer at Fisher Early Learning Center and write for the DU Clarion, the student newspaper.

Delaney Kottenstette is a third year student, studying Composition and Recording & Production at DU's Lamont School of Music. Her primary instrument is the flute, but in order to expand her compositional tools, she has explored different musical timbres and combinations, and has endeavored to learn new instruments. This journey has led her to try steel drums and now, the carillon. She was born and raised in Colorado, now living in Denver.

Sofia Lendino is a fourth year student at DU, majoring in Socio-Legal Studies and Spanish with a minor in Sustainability. She is from Minnesota and enjoys snowboarding, going to concerts, and playing soccer.

Iris Levey is in her senior year at the University of Denver as a mechanical engineering major with minors in psychology, math, computer science, and medical physics. On campus she's part of the Society of Women Engineers, finger painting club, and intramural soccer. She's the president of the DU Guild of Carillonists and has played at 3 other carillons across the world so far. Iris is excited to continue playing the carillon wherever she ends up after graduation!

Jack McHugh is a senior at DU and is pursuing a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance. A New Jersey native, Jack enjoys showing people pictures of his dog, Sam. He is an active member of Exit 205 A Cappella. In his free time, Jack can be found reminiscing about his time spent studying abroad in Cork, Ireland.

Anna Neumann is a fourth-year student at DU, double-majoring in Journalism and Communications. Originally from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, she proudly defends the Midwest in any conversation. Anna serves as the executive editor of The DU Clarion. Outside the newsroom, she enjoys spending time with friends, watching Survivor, and exploring new restaurants and bars (always leaving behind a thoughtful Yelp review.)

Brayden Roe is a second-year student at DU, majoring in Socio-Legal Studies and Mathematics with a minor in Business Ethics and Legal Studies. This is his third quarter playing the carillon, and he is excited to keep learning! When not playing carillon, he enjoys being involved with CSF and Mock Trial.

Mackenzie Simon is a fourth-year student at DU, majoring in Socio-legal Studies and Psychology with a minor in Marketing. Her hometown is Longmont, Colorado. She enjoys traveling, spending time with her Chi Omega sisters, and is planning to attend law school after graduation.

Finn Vaughan is a second-year student at DU and he is currently undeclared. He grew up just north of Denver in Fort Collins. If he's not practicing in the Bell Tower, you can find Finn by himself at the nearest movie theatre, rock climbing, or watching his favorite sports teams.

Lina Woelk is a fourth-year student at DU, majoring in both Socio-Legal studies and Journalism. She hails from Laramie, Wyoming, but loves the last four years she has spent in Colorado (especially for the skiing). A former trumpet player of 9 years, she is happy to be back in a musical setting playing carillon. In her free time, she enjoys reading, skiing, biking, and listening to music.
