

Lamont School of Music

Carillon Studio Winter Concert

Joey Brink

Director

Sunday, March 15, 2026

3:00 p.m.

Williams Carillon, Ritchie Center Lawn

Robert & Judi Newman Center for the Performing Arts

This is an outdoor concert.

Listen anywhere you can see and hear the gold spired tower.

For the best listening experience, we encourage patrons to select a seat in the courtyard south of the tower, between the Coors Fitness Center and Asbury Ave.

Following the concert, meet in the courtyard to greet the performers and enjoy a light reception.

Biographies

Bryn Yehle is a third year student at DU, majoring in physics with minors in Math, Biology and Astrophysics. She has also played piano, oboe and double tenor steel pan. In her free time she enjoys hiking, knitting and reading.

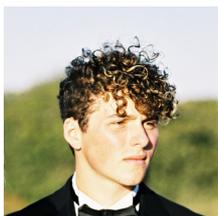

Finn Vaughan is a second-year student at DU and he is currently undeclared. He grew up just north of Denver in Fort Collins. If he's not practicing in the Bell Tower, you can find Finn by himself at the nearest movie theatre, rock climbing, or watching his favorite sports teams.

Alexis Shoss is a second-year student at DU. She is majoring in Psychology with a minor in Judaic Studies. She is from Houston! She has a yellow lab at home named Coop. She loves hanging out with her friends, watching movies, reading books, listening to music (loves symphonies and soundtracks) and traveling! She is a member of the sorority Chi Omega on campus.

Autumn Schimnoski is a first-year student at Du, majoring in Game Development with a minor in Emergent Digital Practices. She's here from Minneapolis, Minnesota, born and raised. Her other pastimes include playing video games, listening to music, and playing pinball.

Piers McGowin is a junior at the University of Denver. He has played a wide range of instruments starting in middle school with the French horn, and the trombone and now is learning guitar. After getting a tour of the carillon he decided that this was something he wanted to do and started taking lessons his first year at DU. Outside of music and school Piers likes to go outside and play golf, ultimate frisbee, and snowboard, or spend time inside and play some boardgames and talk with friends.

Kailey Hulihan is a third-year student at DU. She is majoring in both Criminology and Psychology with a minor in Biology. She is originally from Illinois, but glad to call Colorado home for her schooling. Her passion for music and past piano experience exposed her to interest in carillon. When not practicing and playing the instrument, she enjoys spending time with friends and loved ones, reading, watching movies, and teaching 18.5m-3yr gymnastics at the Ritchie Center.

Abby McDonald is a third-year student at the University of Denver. She is a double major in Film Production and Applied Music, as well as minoring in Leadership Studies through the Pioneer Leadership Program. A choir kid through and through, Abby enjoys everything to do with music and spends much of her days at Lamont. When she isn't practicing though, you can find her exploring around Colorado, trying a new recipe, playing a card game with friends, or building a lego set.

Eric Pohlkamp is a junior at the University of Denver and a member of the DU hockey team. He grew up in a small lake town and still enjoys being around the water whenever he can. Outside of hockey, he enjoys being with his family. He has 5 siblings who are all super competitive with each other. All of them played college hockey and enjoy playing golf together.

Kayla Stutz is a second-year student at DU, majoring in Art and Anthropology with minors in History and Business Administration. She is a Colorado native, and uses her free time to enjoy nature, go on adventures, and engage in many creative hobbies such as creating art, playing viola, and watching movies.

Caroline Elbert is a third year DU student majoring in Molecular Biology with minors in Chemistry, Music, and she is considering Physics as well! She is a Colorado native. When not playing carillon, she enjoys crocheting, practicing violin, and singing in choir.

Brayden Roe is a second-year student at DU, majoring in Socio-Legal Studies and Mathematics with a minor in Business Ethics and Legal Studies. This is his third quarter playing the carillon, and he is excited to keep learning! When not playing carillon, he enjoys being involved with CSF and Mock Trial.

The Williams Carillon at the Ritchie Center

The Williams Carillon at the Ritchie Center, dedicated on October 24, 1999, contains 65 bronze bells weighing a total weight of 64,900 pounds. Cast by the Royal Eijsbouts Bell Foundry in The Netherlands, the Williams Carillon was the 160th on North American soil and the second in Colorado. Given by Carl Williams, the carillon provides music for major University events and community concerts, as well as daily recitals and student engagement. Played from a keyboard with wooden manual and pedal keys in a playing cabin located just below the bells, the action is entirely mechanical, allowing for musical expression through variation of touch.
